

The newspaper was founded in 1882 under the name Der Tiroler. Following the fascist government's prohibition of the use of the name "Tirol" in any form or variation, the newspaper was forced to change its name, and in August 1923 Der Landsmann replaced Der Tiroler.

In October 1925, Der Landsmann was closed because of its anti-fascist activities, together with the rest of the area's German-language press. After over a year of inactivity, the newspaper was finally allowed to resume publishing, though it was subject to a whole series of conditions and constraints. The newspaper was issued three times a week under the new name Dolomiten.

The newspaper was closed by Nazi authorities in September 1943. The editorial offices and the publishing house were seized and "entrusted" to a Nazi Company that published a newspaper of its own. The ranking editors who did not manage to escape were arrested and deported to the concentration camp in Dachau.

In mid March 1945, the military government of the Allies granted the licence to publish a newspaper to the legal representatives of the Athesia company. On 19th May 1945 the Dolomiten resumed publishing, and has since continued without interruption. The Dolomiten is an independent newspaper of Catholic orientation, tirelessly committed to defending the ethnic, cultural, economic and social rights of South Tyrol's German- and Ladin-speaking populations.
